THE "FEATHERLIFT" FACE LIFT PROCEDURE - New Advances On The Horizon

Dr. Lille has been trained in the "Featherlift," a new non-surgical facelift procedure not yet approved by the F.D.A. The Featherlift is achieved with anti-drooping suture threads that can elevate a drooping brow, cheek or jawl. The thread possesses bi-directional knot-like barbs that anchor and lift facial tissues. The threads are inserted below the skin using a needle device. Results can last up to two years at which time additional threads can be inserted to maintain the desired look. Featherlift is an in-office procedure and ideal candidates are in the initial stages of facial aging characterized by subtle loosening of the skin. After the procedure, regular activities can resume in 72 hours, and gym activities in 10 days. Results can be seen as early as 2 weeks with final results at 2 months. Dr. Lille anticipates F.D.A. approval by April. Once approved, Dr. Lille will perform the technique live on ABC News.

FEATURES DR. LILLE FOR EXTREME MAKEOVER

In case you missed it, Dr. Lille performed an Extreme Makeover on patient, Sherrie Lewis (See before & after photo's). The ABC15 camera crew followed Sherri from the beginning Pre-op visit through her 8.5 hour surgery, which included an endoscopic browlift, eyelid lift, face and neck lift, and rhinoplasty with chin implant. Sherri's goal was not only to "turn back the clock," but to achieve more balance and harmony within the face using nose re-shaping and chin augmentation procedures. Sherri was so pleased with her results that she invited the camera crew to a "revealing" party with her family and friends where everyone agreed that it was the best face Extreme Makeover they had ever seen! Since the airing of this Extreme Makeover, Dr. Lille invited Sherri to be part of his professional staff. Sherri has over 17 years experience as an esthetician and provides a full range of services. Please call Sherri (480-231-5361) for a free consultation.

RESTYLANE - The Newest FDA Approved Soft Tissue Filler Does It Replace All Others?

Restylane is ideal for wrinkles around the mouth and is excellent for "plumping up" the lips. Dr. Lille believes that Restylane should replace collagen for small wrinkles since it usually lasts 2-3 months longer and looks more natural in injected skin. Radiance, which was discussed in the last newsletter, is best for prominent creases between the cheek and mouth area and can last over a year. Both of these soft tissue fillers are used synergistically for aging wrinkles in the mouth area. Botox, however, continues to be Dr. Lille's choice for the forehead and crows feet area of the eyes.
